

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I give thanks to ALMIGHTY GOD, the ONE who reigns supreme in the affairs of men and whose words are yea and amen without whom the completion of this study would have been impossible. For his mercies, protection, provisions, sustainance, good health (both for me, my wife and children) and favour, I am highly grateful.

I sincerely appreciate my supervisor, Professor Folasade Ogunsola, for accepting to supervise me in the first place, her love, thorough supervision and impacting my life. For all her encouragement, support and constructive criticisms, I am very grateful.

My immense gratitude also goes to my co-supervisor, Professor A.O. Coker for all his encouragement, contribution and support. Sir, thanks for everything and may God reward you.

To Professor A.F. Fagbenro-Beyioku, I say a big thank you for your immense contribution in diverse ways and love. I also thank Professor S.A. Omilabu for all his assistance and always urging me on. I am highly indebted to Dr Wellington Oyibo; I can't enumerate all you did toward successful completion of this study. Thanks for being a concerned, caring and pragmatic Postgraduate Coordinator; may God reward you. To Drs Oduyebo, Aibinu, Neumoga and Nwaokorie, I say thank you. My appreciation also goes to all the other staff of the Department of Medical Microbiology and Parasitology. Thanks to all my postgraduate colleagues and Dr. Ojuromi. My sincere appreciation goes to Olumide Onafeso.

My special appreciation goes to The University of Ibadan for providing me with employment through which I was able to maintain my family and fund this programme and also accessed some international fellowships such as Fulbright. I also thank my brother, Engineer Olu Alabi and his wife, for their support. I am indebted to my late mother, Mrs. Florence Oni for her support, travails, understanding and cooperation and was so eager to see the end of the programme but death did not allow her. To my sister, Mrs Egun Babalola, I say thanks for your support and prayers.

To Professors B.A. Oso and Sanni, Drs A.C Odebode and A.A. Onilude of the Departments of Botany and Microbiology, University of Ibadan, I say thank you. My appreciation also to all my friends who were genuinely concerned about me; I can't but mention Vincent Nganga and Bola Alakiu. I also thank Pastor Oladipupo Abimbola Peter.

I thank Commonwealth Science Council, UNESCO-MCBN, University of Koceali, Turkey and United State Department of States for providing fellowships to carry out molecular aspects of my study at University of Durham, UK, University of Koceali, Turkey and University of Creighton, USA. Thanks to all my mentors: Professors A.R Walmsley, H. Vahaboglu, Nancy Hanson, Frank Aastrup and Kenneth Thomson. Others are Drs F. Kolayli, A. Karadenizli and R. Hedriksen and Simon Padbury, Ellen Mollad and Vonna Byinton. I also appreciate my friends: Philip Kurpiel, Ahmed Ali, Amber and Sinem.

Lastly, I appreciate my darling wife Olutoyin Adeola, who stood by me through thick and thin. Thanks for your prayers, understanding, cooperation, encouragement, love, contributions, support and rising to all the challenges. To my kids: Emmanuel, Hezekiah and Oluwadunsin, I say thank you for bearing with me at the difficult times.

O LORD, I am very grateful. In deed the race is not to the swift. And surely, it is neither by power nor by might but by the spirit of God. Praise be to the FATHER, SON AND HOLY SPIRIT.
